Avanquest delivers enhanced, environmentally friendly, enterprise-wide document management with Captaris RightFax® 9.3

Avanquest UK, provider of business solutions to the enterprise, delivers enhanced integration for leading multi-function products (MFP) with the latest version of Captaris RightFax 9.3, enterprise faxing and document delivery solution, and the Captaris RightFax MFP module.

The RightFax MFP module allows users to extend enterprise fax and document delivery features to HP, Sharp and Xerox, delivering significant benefits by enabling organisations of any size to quickly integrate advanced network faxing and document delivery capabilities with the same devices used daily for printing, scanning and copying.

With the added benefits of Captaris RightFax 9.3, organisations can operate an energy saving document management solution (saving electricity and paper), whilst delivering significant enhancements in enterprise performance, scalability and user administration, with faster document delivery speeds, better support for disaster recovery scenarios, and an updated web access client.

Mike Rae, Captaris Product Manager at Avanquest says "We are very excited about the upcoming release of RightFax 9.3. The improved integration with Microsoft SQL and Active Directory will be a huge benefit to the IT Administrators of our Enterprise clients. This is a great opportunity for our existing customers to review their RightFax deployments and migrate to a consolidated platform with better disaster recovery options, especially if they are still running RightFax on NT. We would also encourage our customers to consider other capabilities which have been added recently such as workflow and archiving tools, integration with multi-function devices and support for fax-over-IP"

Key Features and Benefits of Captaris RightFax® 9.3

- A new database consolidation feature. Multiple RightFax application servers will be able to share a single instance of the RightFax SQL database, offering significant improvements in user administration, load balancing, data redundancy, and support for disaster recovery scenarios.
- An XML-based tool to synchronise company data to RightFax from Microsoft Active Directory or the Lightweight Directory Access Protocol (LDAP). Built on the Microsoft .NET Framework, this drastically reduces administration time and ensures more accurate data synchronisations. The new Microsoft Active Directory integration does not require an update to the company's existing schema.
- Enhanced Web Access client that make it even easier to deploy and to use.
- Performance enhancements to inbound document processing that will benefit companies seeing increased document traffic entering their organisation. RightFax 9.3 uses Microsoft SQL Server to manage the receive queue, adding even more reliability, better performance and load balancing.
- A new server application, built on the Microsoft .NET Framework, provides a faster and more efficient conversion of Microsoft Office documents into faxes.
- Support for multiple dedicated SMTP gateways for inbound or outbound fax processing, which will improve document delivery speed and eliminate processing delays.
- Updates to Eicon fax board support including call blocking, inbound routing and enhanced use of CSID.

Chris Thompson, Managing Director, Avanquest UK comments “Captaris continues to maintain their position as the leading enterprise fax server worldwide. We have been selling Captaris software successfully for 15 years as part of our portfolio of business solutions - we understand our clients need to remain competitive and deliver greater efficiency, whilst complying with an ever-increasing range of standards, legal requirements and environmental initiatives.”
